

Learning outcomes

At the webinar's completion participants will be equipped with:

- An understanding of the challenges faced by parents facing adversity when they present at services. What worries them? How can practitioners assuage their concerns?
- An exploration of professional practices that support parent-child relationships to overcome adversity.
- An exploration of how practitioners can support parents through adversity, while still maintaining a focus on the social and emotional wellbeing of children.

3

Practice Challenges

The practice challenges to be addressed will be:

- How practitioners can have conversations with parents about child protection concerns without shaming, silencing or alienating them
- How practitioners can respond to parents who hold negative or ambivalent opinions and feelings towards the child that adversely affect the child's wellbeing
- How practitioners can support parents who are facing immediate, multiple and often overwhelming adversities establish and maintain positive, hopeful and mindful perspectives for their child's wellbeing
- How practitioners can help parents both focus on the social and emotional wellbeing of their children while not feeling stigmatised for their experiences of adversity

4

For more information or to access our free training and resources visit:

www.emergingminds.com.au

Emerging Minds.

National Workforce Centre for Child Mental Health

The National Workforce Centre for Child Mental Health is funded by the Australian Government Department of Health under the National Support for Child and Youth Mental Health Program.

Thank you for participating

Please ensure you complete the feedback survey before you log out. Click the Feedback Survey tab at the top of the screen to open the survey. For more information about the conference visit www.mhpnconference.org.au

Stay tuned for the next activity later today:

The practitioners' perspective

Thursday 30 May 2019, 3 pm AEST

6